HAMBURGH, August 12.

THOUGH the Credit of the trading Houses of this City begins to revive, Trade is still in a languid State. It is certain that four Merchants have failed; but to prevent more Bank[illegible], several of the principal Merchants have [illegible]bed for a Million and a Half of Bank Marks, [illegible]ill agree with the Merchants of Berlin for a [illegible]um. In the mean Time our Bank advances [illegible] on Ingots of Gold and Silver, and even up[illegible]ushold Goods.

[illegible] obstinate Engagement, which lasted two [illegible]d cost the Emperor 7000 Men, he gained [illegible]lete Victory. After which he marched to [illegible], to recover a Town that has been long [illegible] by the Algerines. He is speedily expected [illegible]nes, where there is no Doubt he will levy [illegible] Money as he can.

[illegible], July 25. Our Letters from Corsica bring [illegible]ta, that in the Affair of the 18th, under the [illegible] Furiani, the Genoese lost upwards of 200 [illegible] General Matra's Nephew was mortally [illegible]d in it. However, the Republic appears [illegible] disposed to desist from the Corsican War, [illegible] has just sent again a large Convoy of war[illegible]ores to Bastia.

LONDON, August 18.

[illegible]rday there was a great Levee at St. James's, [illegible]pliment his Majesty on the safe Delivery of [illegible]een, and the Birth of a Prince.

Tuesday an Express was sent to the Lord-[illegible], at Fonthill in Wiltshire, for his Lordship [illegible]e to Town to hold a Court of Common [illegible]il, which is summoned for To-morrow, in [illegible]o pay the City's respectful Congratulations [illegible]Majesty, upon the Birth of another Prince. [illegible] said that the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor [illegible] up with the Address in the grandest Man[illegible]ible, accompanied with an additional Band [illegible]sic, Kettle-Drums, &c.

[illegible] Stationers, Printers, and Booksellers at [illegible] in Holland, kept, on Tuesday, the 2d [illegible], their grand Jubilee of One Hundred Years, [illegible]memorate the Invention of Printing; on [illegible] occasion there were Illuminations and other [illegible]tions of Joy.

[illegible] from Dublin say, that great Disturban[illegible] continued among the Weavers in that City; [illegible] the Weavers had ordered a Meet[illegible] consider of legal Means for redressing Grie[illegible], and putting a Stop to the Importation of [illegible] Goods, either directly from France, or by [illegible] Chester.

[illegible] Prussian Majesty seems determined to keep [illegible] Army as it was during the War; because [illegible]es does not appear durable. It is certain [illegible]terprising Monarch has announced Ven[illegible] against the Dutch, who have constructed a [illegible]ykes, at the Expence of 50,000 l. Sterling, [illegible] Part of East Friesland which belongs to his Majesty, whereby they can lay that Country under Water, six Feet deep, in a few Hours.

August 23. On Saturday last an Express arrived from Holland, with an Account of several more Bankruptcies there.

Letters from Cadiz, by Yesterday's French Mail, bring an Account of the Arrival of the Flota, with near 6,000,000 Sterling on board in Specie and Merchandize.

By the last Letters from Cadiz, Orders had been dispatched to Ferrol and Carthagena, for the Building of a Number of Frigates, from 20 to 30 and 40 Guns, on which a great many extra Hands will be employed.

On the 11th Inst. about Half an Hour after XI at Night, there was such a Storm at Brussels, that the Inhabitants thought the End of the World was come. Amidst the most dreadful Peals of Thunder, the Lightning was such, that the Heavens seemed all on Fire, and the City every Moment in Danger of being involved in the general Conflagration. To this Thunder and Lightning succeeded a Storm of Hail, which lasted eight or ten Minutes. The whole Storm continued two Hours. The Bigness of the Hail-stones was that of a large Nut; some were as big as a Hen's Egg. It may easily be conceived what Havock was made; all the Fruits of the Earth, the Verdure and Herbs, are cut and beat to the Ground; even the Trees are as bare of Leaves and Fruit, as in the Month of January. The Windows of one Half of the Number of the public Edifices, Churches, Palaces, and private Dwelling-houses, at Brussels, are broke, and the Roofs, particularly those of Slate, much damaged. Many of the Inhabitants died, and others are very ill by the Fright. It is remarkable, that the Quarter of the Town called Le Rivage, scarce suffered any thing. The Cloud which sent out this Storm, was rather long than broad; its Direction was from Halle towards Mechlin. The Damage done to the Windows only, is a very considerable Object. The Magistrates have, on this Occasion, given Permission to Glaziers, who are not Freemen, to work in the City for two Months.

August 27. The Elector of Mentz, whose Death is mentioned lately in the London Gazette, was chosen to that Electorate on the 5th of July last, on the Death of Count d'Ostain Engelheim, and died on the 15th of August, so that he has enjoyed his Dignity but about six Weeks. He was Baron Breidback of Burrisheim, Great Dean of that Chapter. The Election is in the Chapter. He is temporal Sovereign of the Country, the Revenues whereof are upwards of 100,000 l. Sterling per Annum.

The following Persons are talked of for Secretary of State, in the Room of the Right Hon. the Earl of Egremont, viz. Mr. Pitt, Charles Townshend, Lord Shelburne, Lord Egmont, Lord Sandwich, Lord Barrington, and Lord Harcourt.

We hear that a Monument is to be erected on the North Side of Westminster-Abbey, to the Memory of the brave Adm. Boscawen.

Wednesday two eminent Houses of this City stopped Payment; but Yesterday one of them opened.

The French, during the late War, built, at an Expence of a Million and a Half Sterling, 300 Flat-Bottomed Boats, capable of carrying 75,000 Troops, with their Arms, &c. including 15,000 Cavalry. These Boats, we hear, they have lately sold by Auction at Dunkirk, for old Timber. Some of them sold for about forty Guineas.

August 30. On Saturday the Right Hon. William Pitt had a Conference of near three Hours with his Majesty, at the Queen's Palace; and we hear that Yesterday Mr. Pitt set out for the Duke of Newcastle's Seat, at Claremont.

Yesterday Morning a Messenger was dispatched to the Right Hon. the Lord Chancellor, at his Seat at the Grange, in Hampshire.

Yesterday Morning an Express was sent to Chatsworth, in Derbyshire, for the Duke of Devonshire to come to Town immediately; and it is said that several if not most of the Lords in the Opposition, will speedily repair to Town.

His Majesty has appointed Robert Wood, Esq; to have the Management of the Affairs of the southern Department, till another principal Secretary is appointed in the Room of the Earl of Egremont; but the Earl of Halifax signs all the Dispatches that go from the said Office.

By Letters from Hamburgh, of the 19th Inst. we are advised, that the Plan which was formed there by the Merchants to support one another had failed, which had occasioned fourteen Merchants Houses to stop Payment on the 17th, and on the next Day they were followed by thirteen more. It is added, that one of the greatest Merchants at Berlin has failed.

Some of our Merchants received, on Saturday last, by the Dutch Mail, a List of 34 Bankrupts at Hamburgh, and 4 at Altena. There are no English among them.

Yesterday Mr. Pitt was again in Conference with his Majesty about two Hours, at the Queen's Palace, in the Park.

The greatest Merchant at Berlin having failed, his Prussian Majesty offered to advance him 200,000 Rix-Dollars; which Offer he declined accepting of, not being sufficient; but the King of Prussia has granted him his Protection for ten Years.

They write from Amsterdam, of the 22d Inst. that the German Jews residing there had subscribed 300,000 Florins, and their Synagogue 60,000 Ditto, to support the Merchants there, according to the Association entered into.

It is said, in a Letter received by the last Mail, that the Governor General of the French West-Indies, immediately after taking Possession of the Islands of Martinico and Guadaloupe, levied a Sum upon the Inhabitants of those Islands to the Amount of 500,000 l. Sterling.

The following are the Changes talked of, in Consequence of the Revolution which it is supposed is going to be made in the Ministry, but as yet nothing certain is known relating to them.

The Right Hon. William Pitt, and Charles Townshend, Secretaries of State.

The Right Hon. Earl Temple, First Lord of the Treasury.

The Right Hon. Earl Hardwicke, President of the Council.

The Right Hon. Henry Bilson Legge, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

And his Grace the Duke of Devonshire again Lord Chamberlain.

When this Paper went to Press a Report prevailed, that Mr. Pitt was appointed [illegible] of the Treasury; and it is doubtful whether Lord Temple, or the Earl of Egmont, will succeed Lord Egremont, deceased, as one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

September 1. We are informed that above 3000 Ship-Carpenters, and others, are daily employed at Brest, Rochefort, Toulon, Marseilles, and other Places in France, on the royal Navy; and that they would have, in about two Years Time, a very formidable Fleet.

General Webb's Regiment came home from the Havanna in the Tyger Man of War. The whole Regiment now consists only of 36 Rank and File.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, Aug. 12.

"You would be astonished at the Number of English that are in this City; it is impossible to pass through a single Street without meeting them; they are so profuse in their Expences, that the French cannot be persuaded there is a poor Englishman in the World. Assure yourself the French are meditating a heavy Blow against England, and it will soon take Effect, if the Ministry can compass the Abolishment of the Farmers General, and lay an equal Tax on the People; they will by this Means increase the Revenue 300 Millions of Livres, and get rid of 90,000 Collectors, [illegible] your Excisemen, therefore detestable. [illegible] of the French Ministry seems to be [illegible] Body of Men in the West-Indies, [illegible] declare themselves; for this Purpose there is scarcely a single Ship sails for the Islands without Soldiers on board it. The English who are here on the Spot talk very freely among themselves of an approaching Rupture, and indeed every Thing bears the Appearance of it; how this will be [illegible] England, you best know who are [illegible]

Extract of a Letter from D[illegible]

"Believe none of the Reports [illegible] the Demolition of this Place. The [illegible] is destroyed, and a few of the [illegible], which might be rebuilt in a Month; but the great Canal, which is capable of holding fifty Men of War, is still, together with its Sluices, in excellent Order: They seem to have no Intention of destroying it, neither will any of the Fortifications be demolished which can be of any future Use to them: There are, it is true, some Workmen who seem to be doing Something, but if they go on at the slow Rate they now do, should it be the Intention of the French to demolish these Fortifications, the Work would be seven Years about. I need only tell you, that they have begun the Work at the Wrong End, to convince you they are not in Earnest."

A few Days ago an extraordinary Match was Run on Newmarket Heath, between Mr. Tuting's Grey Horse Cabbage, and Mr. Johnson's Chesnut Horse, for 85 Guineas, 5 Times over the round Course, which is about 20 Miles, and was Won by Cabbage by only a Length; they performed the Whole in 45 Minutes and 31 Seconds.

Sept. 5. One of the Stipulations lately agitated in the great World at Westminster, is reported to have been the Elevation of a certain Person to the Earldom of Jamaica.

It is said that a noble Personage, who was greatly concerned in negotiating the late Peace, finding himself only made a Fool of, has joined the Minority, and is determined to lay all the Secrets of that Treaty before an August Assembly.

It is said that a great Patriot has declared it his unalterable Resolution, not to have any Share in Administration, unless all who had any Hand in making the Peace are removed.

Thursday Afternoon the Right Hon. Mr. Pitt was two Hours with his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland.

They write from Hamburgh, by Letters dated the 26th, that they have a List of 54 Houses that have failed since the 11th Inst. Baron Stenglin has agreed to pay his Creditors in three Payments; and the Jews, Ephraim and Wulff, have declared, that they will pay all the Bills of Exchange of the insolvent Houses, which they have indorsed; but it is supposed there are none of their Indorsements.

Sept. 6. Private Letters from Hamburgh, of the 19th ult. mention, that there never was known such a Confusion as happened there on the 17th and 18th on their Exchange, by the Failure of so many Merchants Houses; which has affected the principal Dealers of the Cities in Germany, Denmark, and Sweden, and put an entire Stop to the Trade and Commerce of the City of Hamburgh, where they are all mistrustful of one another. They add, that besides the Christians, seven of the most opulent Jews at Altena had likewise failed.

Liverpool, August 5. On Saturday Morning last, about a Quarter past Six o'Clock, this Town and Neighbourhood were alarmed by a dreadful Noise and Concussion of the [illegible], which shook many Buildings, burst open Doors, and broke several Glass Windows, occasioned by the unfortunate blowing up of the Charlotte, Captain Francis Lowndes, bound for Africa, lying at the Rock Point, three Miles from the Town, who had just taken in her Gunpowder. The Ship and Crew on board were destroyed, except one Man taken up out of the Water. Luckily the Master, second Mate, Boatswain, and a Boat's Crew, were absent. The Accident is supposed to have been owing to a Boy striking a Light with a Flint and Steel, before they had swept away the loose Powder spilt on the Deck. Several Persons travelling on the neighbouring Roads were stunned by the sudden Shock and Noise, and their Horses made a full Stop. The Cloud of Smoke dispersing, discovered the River spread over with Wreck; and Boats were immediately dispatched to save all possible.

London, Aug. 11. By private Letters from Thelwell in Cheshire we learn, that there were no less than forty Barrels of Gunpowder on board the Charlotte Snow at Liverpool at the Time she blew up, which rendered the Explosion so great that the Shock was heard as far as that Place, and was supposed by all to have been occasioned by an Earthquake.

WILLIAMSBURG, October 14.

Extract of a Letter from Col. Andrew Lewis, to his Honour the President, dated October 3.

"Our Men on Duty have of late been continually harrassed by the Enemy, especially those on Jackson's River. The Lookouts in that Quarter, about the End of August, discovered the Tracks of a Party of Indians on Green-Brier. As soon as they made their Report, I ordered Captains Bowyer and Moffat, with 100 Men, to go in Quest of them; who found the Indians, about 20 in Number, [illegible]. As soon as our people fired on them, they took to their Heels, though not without returning the Fire; two of their Men, however, were killed on the Spot, and many of those who made their Escape wounded.

About the 12th of last Month, Capt. Ingles, with 30 of his Men, fell in with a Party of Indians, 20 in Number, on New-River, as they were returning from the Frontiers of Halifax with four Prisoners, 30 Horses, and a considerable Quantity of Baggage; the Indians, being unwilling to part with so valuable a Booty, disputed the Ground for near Half an Hour; when Capt. Ingles remained Master of the Field, scalped two of the Indians, wounded many, released the Prisoners, and brought in the Horses and Baggage.

"On the 26th a more unlucky Affair happened on Jackson's River, between Fort Dinwiddie and Fort Young. As Captains Moffat and Phillips (the latter from Louisa) were on their March, with 60 Men, to join Capt. Cuningham, they were attacked by a far superior Number of the Enemy: The Engagement lasted a considerable Time; but at last our Men, overpressed with Numbers, were obliged to give Way, leaving 12 of their Number dead on the Spot, one of them Capt. Phillips's Lieutenant. By all Accounts, the Indians must have lost a good many Men."

Extract of another Letter from Col. Andrew Lewis, to his Honour the President, dated October 10.

"In my Letter to your Honour, dated the 3d of this Month, I mentioned the ordering out a Party of 150 Men in Quest of the Indians that defeated Captains Moffat and Phillips. Our Men followed them to the Head of the South Fork of Patowmack, and, without being discovered, attacked them in their Camp: The Indians made but a slight Resistance, none of them firing above two Rounds, and some of them ran off without taking up their Firelocks. Six of them were scalped in their Camp; and, from the Report of the Officers in the Action, not less than 15 are mortally wounded, as appeared by the Streams of Blood in their Tracks. Their getting instantly into a large Laurel Thicket prevented our People finding them. It is certain many of them must perish, for they left all their Clothes; 100 Blankets, a Number of Shirts, above 100 Pair of Mockasons, and even their Breech Clouts. Our People likewise found in their Camp Plunder of different Kinds, to the Value of 250 l. which was brought off; also 8 Firelocks, and a considerable Quantity of Powder and Lead. The Scalps of the Men killed in the Engagement with Captains Moffat and Phillips were found in their Baggage. Five of our Men were wounded, but not one killed. This Party of Indians, 94 in Number, came from the Northward last Spring, and passed our Frontiers as Friends, under Pretence of going to War against the Cherokees; but it is more likely they went to engage them against Us, for they have neither Scalp nor Prisoner with them, and in their Baggage several Belts of Wampum used on such Occasions have been found. If the Cherokees do intend Mischief, it is probable they will defer it until they receive the Presents intended them. I have the Pleasure to inform your Honour, that the Militia behaved with the greatest Spirit, and are ready to go upon any Expedition against the Indians, even into their own Towns. The 150 Men who went upon this last Expedition, I raised in one Night."

Extract of a Letter from Capt. William Ingles, to his Honour the President, dated Fort Hope, October 10, 1763.

"On the 12th of September, in the Morning, I was informed by two of my Men that they had discovered a Party of Indians, 23 in Number: Upon which I immediately set out with 30 Men, and had the Fortune to fall in with them, notwithstanding they had moved their Camp to some small Distance from the Place where they were first discovered, to a more advantageous Situation; when, we have Reason to believe, they intended to prepare for an Attack on some Place or other, as they were getting ready to Paint, and had several Hoops to stretch Scalps on. We had got within 70 or 80 Yards of their Camp before we discovered them, when 7 or 8 of our Men fired, but could not do any Execution, by reason of the Horses, which the Indians had tied round them for a Defence. They returned the Fire very briskly, upon which a smart Engagement ensued. Our Men, eager for Revenge, ran in upon them; and the Indians, being seized with a Panic, left us Masters of the Field of Battle. We retook 4 Prisoners they had got on [illegible] River, being the Wife of George Workman, and 3 of his Children; we also got 30 Horses, 4 Guns, 18 Tomhawks, 2 Spears, 4 War Clubs, 1 [illegible], and 52 Pair of [illegible], with all their Paint, Conjuring [illegible] that I imagine several of the Scoundrels [illegible] naked home. They had 3 Men killed [illegible] Spot, and we have Reason to believe [illegible] several Men badly wounded. I had one killed, and another wounded."
